

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF OKLAHOMA

BARBARA J. PARK,

Plaintiff,

v.

CAROLYN W. COLVIN, Acting Commissioner of the Social Security Administration,

Defendant.

Case No. CIV-14-97-JHP-SPS

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

The Plaintiff Barbara J. Park appealed denial of her request for benefits by the Commissioner of the Social Security Administration. The Court reversed the decision of the Commissioner and remanded the case to the Administrative Law Judge (“ALJ”) for further proceedings. On remand, the Commissioner found the Plaintiff was disabled and awarded her $48,700.88 in past-due benefits, from which her appellate counsel now seeks attorney’s fees pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406(b)(1). For the reasons set forth below, the undersigned Magistrate Judge recommends pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(C) that the Plaintiff’s Motion For Attorney Fees Under 42 U.S.C. § 406(b) with Supporting Memorandum [Docket No. 26] be granted, and that $12,175.22 be awarded to the Plaintiff’s attorneys pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406(b)(1).

Section 406(b)(1)(A) provides that “[w]hen a court renders a judgment favorable to a claimant under this subchapter who was represented before the court by an attorney, the court may determine and allow as part of its judgment a reasonable fee for such representation, not in excess of 25 percent of the total of the past-due benefits to which the claimant is entitled by reason of such judgment[.]” This 25% limitation is determined irrespective of any fee awarded by the Commissioner for representation in administrative proceedings pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406(a). See Wrenn ex rel. Wrenn v. Astrue, 525 F.3d 931, 937 (10th Cir. 2008) (“The Commissioner and court have the authority to independently determine the appropriate attorney fees. Each has separate standards to make this determination and is only limited as provided by statute. Based on the plain language and statutory structure found in § 406, the 25% limitation on fees for court representation found in § 406(b) is not itself limited by the amount of fees awarded by the Commissioner.”) [internal citations omitted].

The motion for attorney’s fees is timely, i. e., within thirty days of issuance by the Commissioner of the notice of award and thus “within a reasonable time” as required by Fed. R. Civ. P. 60, see, e. g., Harbert v. Astrue, 2010 WL 3238958, slip op. at *1 n. 4 (E.D. Okla. Aug. 16, 2010) (“[W]hile no explanation is needed for a Section 406(b)(1) motion filed within thirty days of issuance of the notice of appeal, lengthier delays will henceforth be closely scrutinized for reasonableness, including the reasonableness of efforts made by appellate attorneys to obtain a copy of any notice of award issued to separate agency counsel.”); see also McGraw v. Barnhart, 450 F.3d 493, 504, 505 (10th Cir. 2006) (“Section 406(b) itself does not contain a time limit for fee requests . . . We believe that the best option in these circumstances is for counsel to employ Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60(b)(6) in seeking a § 406(b)(1) fee award.”); Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(c)(1) (“A motion under Rule 60(b) must be made within a reasonable time[.]”), and the request does not exceed 25% of the past due benefits, i. e., the request is for $12,175.22, which is exactly 25% of the past-due benefits in accordance with the agreement between the Plaintiff and her attorneys. The Court therefore need only consider the reasonableness of the amount requested. See Gisbrecht v. Barnhart, 535 U.S. 789, 807 (2002) (“[Section] 406(b) does not displace contingent-fee agreements as the primary means by which fees are set for successfully representing Social Security benefits claimants in court. Rather, § 406(b) calls for court review of such arrangements as an independent check, to assure that they yield reasonable results in particular cases.”). Factors to consider include: (i) the character of the representation and results achieved; (ii) whether any dilatory conduct might allow attorneys to “profit from the accumulation of benefits during the pendency of the case in court[;]” and, (iii) whether “the benefits are [so] large in comparison to the amount of time counsel spent on the case” that a windfall results, id. at 808, citing McGuire v. Sullivan, 873 F.2d 974, 983 (7th Cir. 1989) (reducing fees for substandard work); Lewis v. Secretary of Health & Human Services, 707 F.2d 246, 249-50 (6th Cir. 1983) (same); Rodriquez v. Bowen, 865 F.2d 739, 746-47 (6th Cir. 1989) (fees reduced when undue delay increases past-due benefits or fee is unconscionable in light of the work performed); Wells v. Sullivan, 907 F. 2d 367, 372 (2nd Cir. 1990) (court should consider “whether the requested amount is so large as to be a windfall to the attorney”), and contemporaneous billing records may be considered in determining reasonableness. See Gisbrecht, 535 U.S. at 808 (“[T]he court may require the claimant’s attorney to submit, not as a basis for satellite litigation, but as an aid to the court’s assessment of the reasonableness of the fee yielded by the fee agreement, a record of the hours spent representing the claimant and a statement of the lawyer's normal hourly billing charge for noncontingent-fee cases.”), citing Rodriguez, 865 F.2d at 741.

Based on the factors enunciated in Gisbrecht, the undersigned Magistrate Judge concludes that $12,175.22 is a reasonable amount of attorney's fees for the work done in this case. First, the attorneys ably represented the Plaintiff in her appeal to this Court and obtained excellent results on her behalf, i. e., a reversal of the Commissioner's decision denying benefits and remand for further consideration. The Plaintiff's success on appeal enabled her not only to prevail in her quest for social security benefits, but also to obtain a total of $6,583.25 in attorney's fees as the prevailing party on appeal under the Equal Access to Justice Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d), which will essentially reduce any amount awarded from her past-due benefits under Section 406(b). Second, there is no evidence the attorneys caused any unnecessary delay in the proceedings. Third, the requested fee does not result in any windfall to the Plaintiff's attorneys, who spent a total of 32.8 hours of attorney work (plus 4.2 hours of paralegal and intern time) on her appeal. See Docket No. 26, Ex. 4. This would equate to a rate of $371.20 per hour for attorney time, which is hardly excessive given that the fee was contingent and the risk of loss was not negligible. The undersigned Magistrate Judge therefore finds that the requested fee of $12,175.22 is reasonable within the guidelines set by Gisbrecht.

It is unclear if the Commissioner withheld an amount from the Plaintiff's past-due benefits, or what portion of that amount (if any) remains for distribution to the Plaintiff after fees have been awarded for the work performed at the agency level pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406(a). See, e. g., Wrenn, 525 F.3d at 933 (“If the amount withheld by the Commissioner is insufficient to satisfy the amount of fees determined reasonable by the court, the attorney must look to the claimant, not the past-due benefits, to recover the difference.”). But in any event, because the $12,175.22 awarded herein pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406(b) exceeds the $6,583.25 previously awarded pursuant to the EAJA, the Plaintiff’s attorneys must refund the latter amount to the Plaintiff. See Weakley v. Bowen, 803 F.2d 575, 580 (10th Cir.1986).

Accordingly, the undersigned Magistrate Judge hereby PROPOSES the findings set forth above and RECOMMENDS that Plaintiff’s Motion For Attorney Fees Under 42 U.S.C. § 406(b) with Supporting Memorandum [Docket No. 26] be GRANTED, and that the Court award attorney’s fees in the amount of $12,175.22 pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406(b)(1). Any objection to this Report and Recommendation must be filed within fourteen days. See Federal R. Civ. P. 72(b)(2).

IT IS SO ORDERED this 10th day of August, 2015.
